Dear Johnny DC,

I subscribe to your fine publication CARTOON NETWORK BLOCK PARTY and I enjoy it almost as much as FARMERS' QUARTERLY. My favorite feature is GRIM ADVENTURES OF BILLY & MANDY. My, what a gentleman Grim is! So well-spoken and dapper. I would enjoy having him over for dinner any time he is free. I'm sure my husband Eustace would enjoy meeting…

…Excuse me, my dog Courage is tugging at my elbow and whimpering. I wonder what he wants?

Muriel
Nowhere, USA

Oh, I don't know... Maybe he opened the door and found a ghastly, bone-faced spook on the doorstep…or an alien robot…or a sea of living hands reaching out to grab him…It's been a busy year already!
– Johnny DC

Hey Johneee!

Me and the boys were reading CARTOON NETWORK BLOCK PARTY yesterday and we think it's great! We are, like, JOHNNY BRAVO's Number One fans--he is the coolest! I can't wait until I have muscles like him and hair like him and dark glasses like him.

The only thing I don't get is why he wastes all his time on those girls! Man, if I was his age, I'd get a part-time job at a hamburger joint and buy all the jawbreakers in the world!

Eddy (and Ed and Edd)

Dear Editor (I'm not wasting my time writing to a cartoon character),

CARTOON NETWORK BLOCK PARTY is pretty good, for a comic book. DEXTER'S LABORATORY is the best part, but not for Dexter. His sister Dee-Dee is obviously the smartest character in that family. Dexter only causes disasters, their Dad just likes to hear himself talk, and their Mom wastes all her time in the kitchen. Dee-Dee is an artist and obviously a free spirit. She knows what she wants and she's not afraid to go after it. I only wish she'd stop collecting those Princess Pony toys. That cutesy stuff is just embarrassing!

Dear Johnny DC,

It is I, Dexter. In between making my amazing discoveries, I like to relax and read CARTOON NETWORK BLOCK PARTY. I especially enjoy the antics of ED, EDD, AND EDDY. You might not think a genius such as myself would be interested in the backyard antics of three ordinary youths but, in truth, I long for comradeship. As one apart from ordinary mankind, I envy the boys--their shared adventures, perceptions, and even name. What fun it would be to have pals.

If I were to clone myself in order to have equals, you could create comical stories about the brilliant escapades of DEX, DEXX, AND DEXTER!

But alas, that trick never works.

Dexter

Dear Johnny DC,

Nigel Uno, here – Numbuh One of CODENAME KIDS NEXT DOOR. Please pass on my words of support to COURAGE THE COWARDLY DOG. I am fascinated by his constant battle with the supernatural. He is quite resourceful at finding solutions to the many ghoulies and ghosties that come to his masters' little farmhouse.

However, he is missing perhaps the greatest threat, right under his large brown nose – The Farmer! HE'S obviously up to no good. The Farmer is an adult and adults are not to be trusted! The Kids Next Door have great experience dealing with adults and would be only too happy to help drive the Farmer away (Muriel can stay). Just say the word!

Dear Johnny (sweet name, man),

I've got a bone to pick with you guys at CARTOON NETWORK BLOCK PARTY. See, I've been looking over your stories about yours truly, Johnny Bravo, and you always show me striking out with the babes. I mean, they look mighty fine, but everything I do and say is lame, and then they walk off, or yell, or worse (ouch)! You got me looking like a fool! You'll have my readers thinking I can't get a date!

So, straighten up and fly right, artist dudes--show me charming the chicks like I do in real life and all will be cool. You've got the hair right, though!

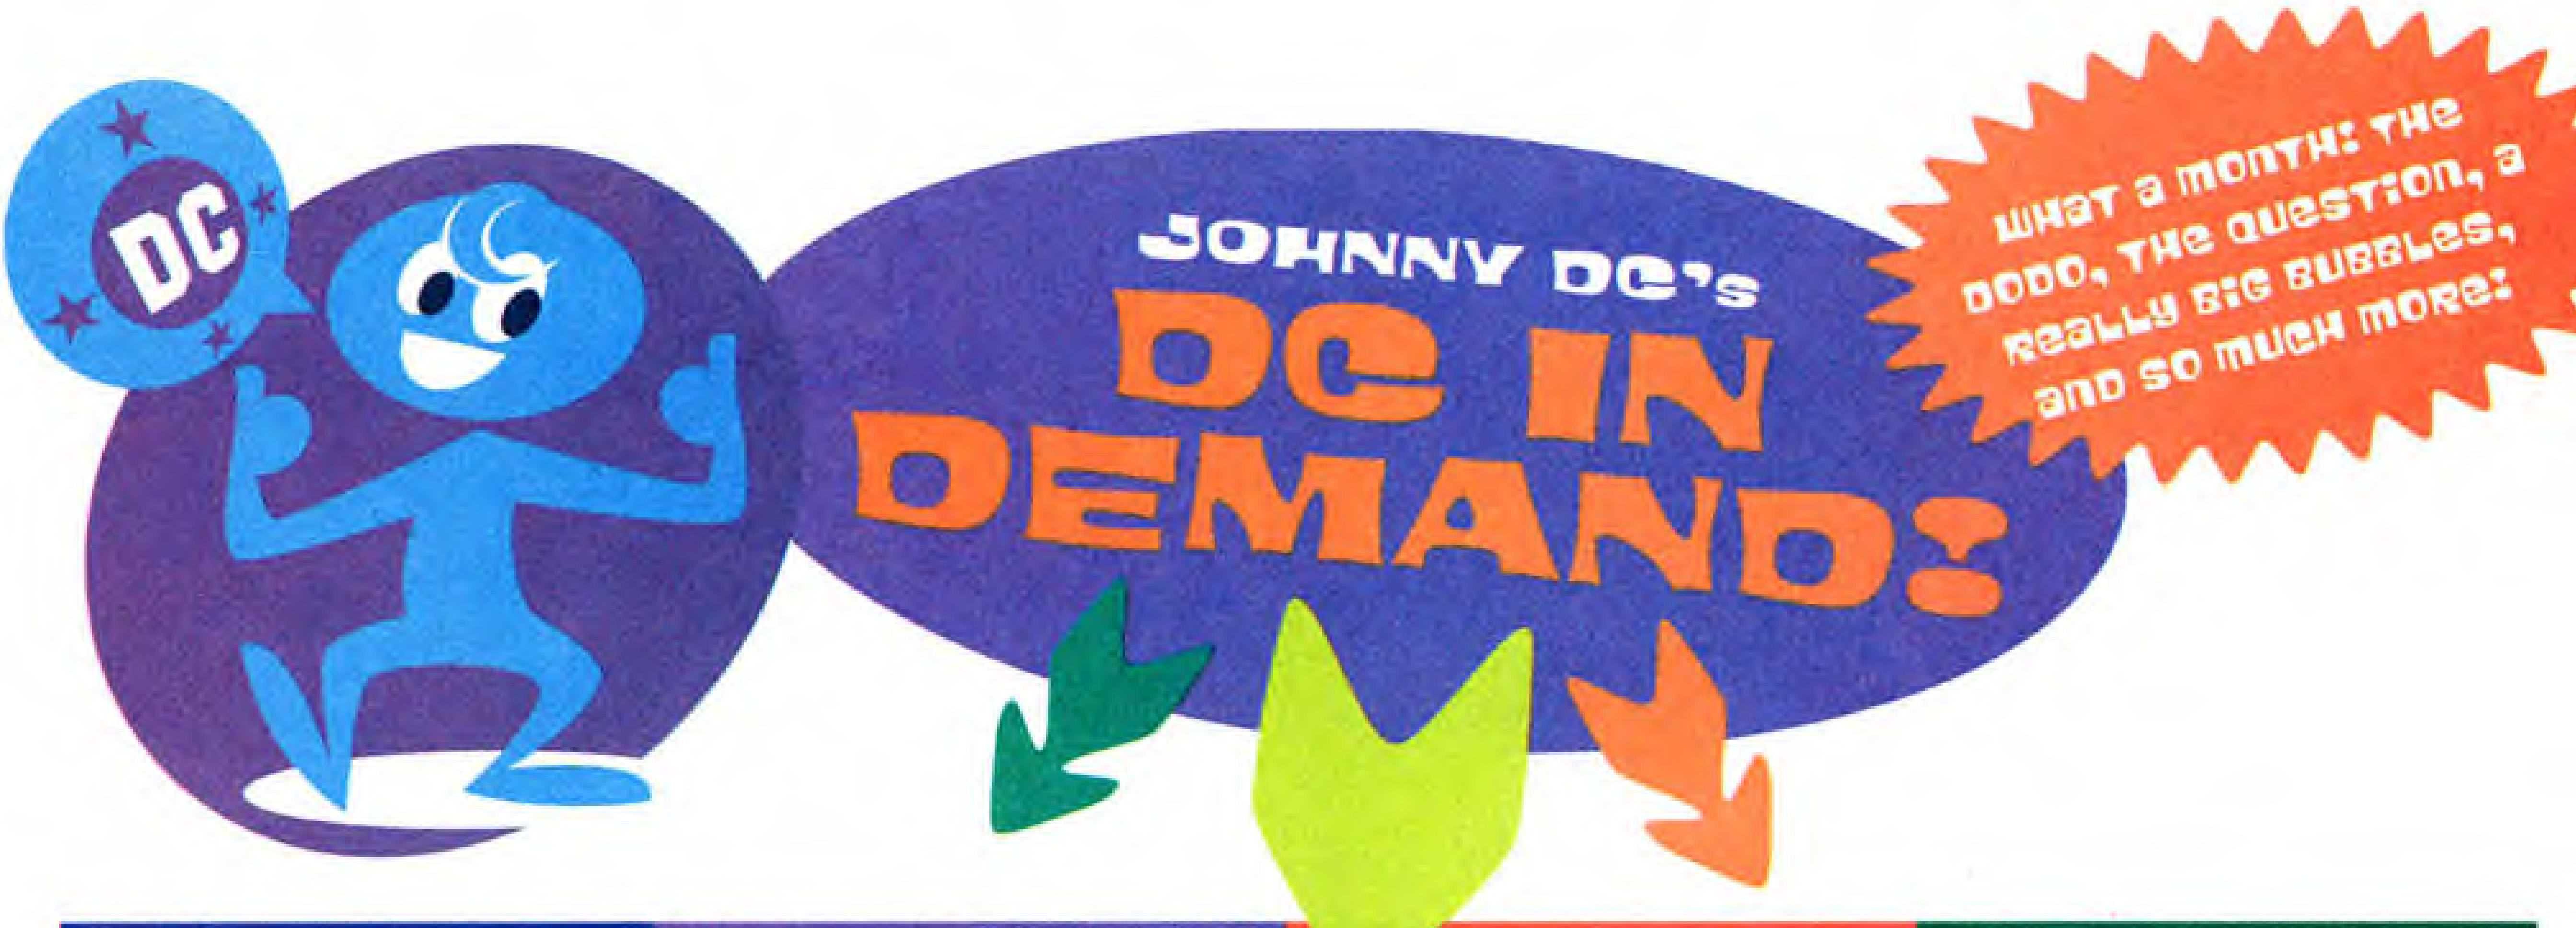

Johnny Bravo

What can I say--he DID sound lame. I bet you fans can do better. Write to me!
